

THE POSK FESTIVAL OF JAZZ VOICE

DAY TWO: SATURDAY 3 OCTOBER 2026

The POSK Festival of Jazz Voice returns to celebrate the excellence, beauty, and innovation that the great singers of jazz embody! During the 3rd edition of this still new festival, you will be able to hear some of those outstanding voices in their element. Let's celebrate the broad and abundant vocal excellence in London at Jazz Café POSK on 2nd and 3rd October 2026!

JAZZ CAFE POSK

238-246 King St. London W6 ORF

SET 1 (8 pm): BASIA BARTZ Trio!

Born and raised in Poland, vocalist, violinist and pianist Basia Bartz has established herself as a prolific player on the London music scene. For her piano-led compositions Basia put together a jazz trio and currently they are in the process of recording their debut album. In this intimate set of original compositions and jazz standards Basia will combine sounds from musical worlds she's visited and weave them into an intricate and evocative musical tapestry.

Basia Bartz – vocal, violin, keys; Ben Reed – bass; Chris Jones – drums

SET 2 (8:40 pm): CHARLIE PYNE Quartet!

Charlie Pyne is a singer and double bassist who is in great demand on the London jazz scene.. Tonight, Charlie and her band will celebrate one of the most iconic jazz singers, the woman who defined the sound of the swing era: Peggy Lee. Expect to hear Peggy's biggest hits such as 'Fever', 'He's a Tramp' and 'Why Don't You Do Right', and much more!

"(Charlie's) playing and singing is instantly engaging and full of personality" - Jazz Journal

Charlie Pyne - vocal and double bass; Luke Pinkstone - saxophone, clarinet and flute; Rob Brockway – piano; Katie Patterson – drums

SET 3 (9:20 pm): IAN SHAW!

In a career spanning three decades, Ian Shaw is widely regarded as the best male jazz vocalist the UK has produced!

Tonight Ian will perform his hugely popular solo show, taking in Joni Mitchell, classic American standards, a smattering of contemporary songwriters (Bowie, Leonard Cohen, Stevie Wonder), laced with some of his pithy and often moving originals.

"Artistry of the highest order" - Simon Callow

Ian Shaw – vocals and piano

SET 4 (10:15 pm): NORMA WINSTONE "A Timeless Place"

Norma Winstone MBE is widely considered one of the best jazz artists in the world. The iconic singer will present a truly special set called "A Timeless Place". Norma says -

"there are places that are special to us for all kinds of personal reasons. Then there are places we have only heard about or can imagine. They often inspire music. I love both the reality and the imagined. My songs tonight will be about that sense of attachment, or... imagination!"

"One of the Glories of contemporary Jazz" - Jazz Journal

Norma Winstone – vocal; Gareth Williams - piano; Mark Lockheart - saxophones
